

Yap and Pohnpei, Eastern Carolines, Micronesia

Manta Ray Bay Resort and Yap Divers shop

The sun sets behind Popou, the Yap Divers boat

Yapese traditional dancers scoping audience

Yap dancers dancing sitting down

My accommodation at the Village Hotel, Pohnpei

Dining area at the Village Hotel

Village Hotel gazebo

Nan Madol ruins, Pohnpei

Younger Yapese dancers

Palau, Caroline Islands, Micronesia

Palau Aggressor II and Palau Aggressor II 1/2

Palau Aggressor II upper deck lounge and wet bar

Coral uprisings known as the Rock Islands, Koror

Among the coral uprisings at sunset

World War II Japanese tank, Peleliu war zone

Japanese gun emplacement, Peleliu

Out front, Palau Pacific Resort

Out back, Palau Pacific Resort

Cairo, Egypt

Cairo's City of the Dead, populated by squatters

Nile River divides Cairo on its way to Mediterranean

Unidentified statue on the streets of Cairo

Just inside the Museum of Egyptian Antiquities

Some of Cairo's multiplying apartment buildings

The Giza Pyramids aren't all that far out of town

Upmarket Marriott Hotel, Cairo

Downmarket back alley, Cairo

bAZARs are ubiquitous in Cairo

Giza and Memphis Pyramids

The big three: the Pyramids of Giza, Cairo outskirts

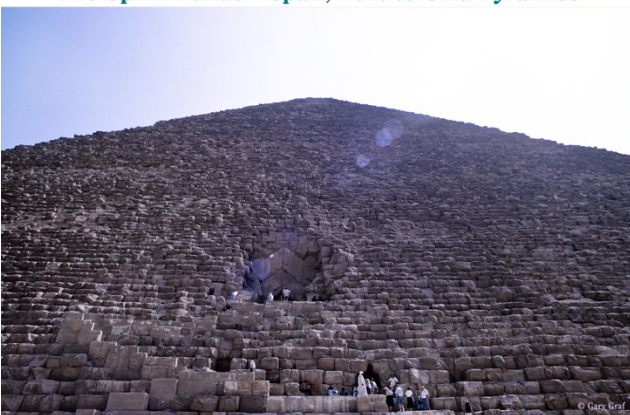

Three Giza landmarks

The Sphinx under repair, next to Giza Pyramids

Camel tour of the Giza Pyramids

Tourists swarming over the Great Pyramid of Giza

Tourists entering Great Pyramid

The Step Pyramid of Djoser, ruins of Memphis

Closer view of the Step Pyramid, only 4,700 years old

Sharm el-Sheikh, Sinai Peninsula, Red Sea

Na'ama Bay, Sharm el-Sheikh

Construction would go on 24/7 in Sharm

A few of the dive boats homeported in Na'ama Bay

Divers boarding day-trippers

Some of the Sinai Peninsula abutting the Red Sea

Sorta looks like this could be a military base

Ghazala I liveaboard at anchor, Red Sea

Egyptian Navy patrol boat checking passports